

AEROPLANE SERIES
Nº 103-10 SUBJECTS

BALDWIN'S DIRIGIBLE No. 1 (America) is of small size compared to the monster Zeppelin, though it resembles the latter in general type: that is, a long cigar-shaped balloon on a rigid frame, the sharp nose of which offers the least possible resistance to the air. Each government is keenly interested in the dirigible (an airship, capable of being guided at the will of the steersman) for its valuable military possibilities in time of war. For reconnoitering and determining an enemy's resources, its advantages are obvious.
